Will Appear At Wheatley Branch Young Women's Christian Association. Program Starts at 9 O'clock to Favor Night Students.

The William's Jubilee Singers have become famous the world over. It is said that no other group of singers have produced such perfect harmony. Strong praise comment comes from the influential men and women of both countries, commending, in highest terms the work of these famous singers. Great success has accompanied all of their entertainments through Europe and America. They will appear in St. Louis at T. W. C. C. gymnasium on the tenth of January. Let all of St. Louis enjoy the rare treat.

Admission, adults 50 cents; children

Sunday evening, the last vesper of the year 1916, was full of spirit and interest. Miss Adams had charge of the meeting and gave a few minutes for expressions of praise and resolve. Rev. Stevens, of the Central Baptist Church, gave a very fitting lecture on the origin and power of songs, which

And now begins the new year of 1917. The Wheatley Branch was made glad on Monday afternoon from two to five, when an Open House was extended to members and friends of the Association. The hearty handshake of

NO ARGUS LAST WEEK

Owing to the holiday rush the publishers of the Argus found it impossible to issue the paper, on time, last week and it was decided to abandon the effort. We wish to thank the public for its confidence and patronage during the year 1916. We have endeavored to publish a clean, newsy, paper and with your loyalty in the future we hope to continue doing so.

ALTON NEWS

By Dr. Geo. Samuels

The rally given at the Union Baptist Church Sunday, December 24, was quite a success. There was a buffet supper given at the Allen Chapel A. M. E. Church Thursday, December 28, a very nice crowd was in attendance. Mr. Summerville, of Jerseyville, Ill., was buried Thursday afternoon at his home in Jerseyville. Mrs. V. Gallaway, of Chicago, Ill., was called home by the death of her stepfather. An Old Folks' Concert was given at the Union Baptist Church Saturday night, December 30. It was largely attended. All had a delightful time. The funeral of Mr. D. Mays was held at the Union Baptist Church Wednesday, Dec. 27. An open house was given at the Campbell A. M. E. Church Monday afternoon. All had a very nice time. Rev. W. C. Mason and mother are visiting their friends in Moonmouth, Ill., during the holidays. Mrs. M. Clark and niece, of St. Louis, are visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. Perkins, of Alton, Ill. A contest was given at the Campbell A. M. E. Church Monday night. Miss M. Williams sold the biggest number of tickets and won a wrist watch, as a prize. Mrs. F. Blanton and mother are visiting their friends and relatives of St. Louis and East St. Louis.

FARMINGTON, MO.

By Miss Dayne Baker

This is a new year that has dawned upon us. May we seek to live it to some great end. Where there's a will there's a way. There's going to be a matrimonial breeze in the Farmington air ere long. Mrs. Henry Amosette has recovered sufficiently to resume her usual duties. Mr. Geo. Meyers, Robert Simpson, Clarence Meyers and Lewis Murphy, of Crystal City, spent Christmas here. The Martin Murphy minstrel had two evenings here last week. Mr. and Mrs.

James Rohlsan, of Detroit, Mich., are here for the remainder of the winter. A new instrument has been placed in the M. E. Church. No greater joy could Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chappelle have than to be blessed with a baby girl. Booker Baker, James Hill, Wm. Wright and Leo Fowell, of St. Louis, enjoyed a week of pleasure here. Rev. Reynolds and son, Clarence, and Miss Dayne Baker, were guests at a dinner at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Harris Monday evening. Mrs. Reynolds and son, Junior, are visiting at Warrensburg. Mrs. R. Phillips and son were the guests of Mrs. Geo. Beckwell, the first of the week. Mrs. Corinne Williams and Edith Cayce have returned to their respective schools. Mrs. F. Evans, of Jefferson City, had a pleasant sojourn with his family. Mrs. P. M. Cayce was hostess to a number of persons at a social Monday evening. Mr. John Cayce has returned from St. Louis where he has had employment. Mrs. V. E. Williams, of Chillicothe, will enjoy an indefinite stay with her mother, Mrs. Jane Hunt. Miss Helen Matthias visited in Coffman last week and Miss Laetta Matthias at Boone Terre. Farmington had visitors from all sections last week. Mr. and Mrs. James Sampson were the guests of Mrs. Katie Cayce Monday. They have returned to their home in East St. Louis. Prof. J. C. Staten received the holy baptism at the M. E. Church Sunday morning. Mrs. Wesley Douthett has been quite ill for several days.

BOB RUSSELL AND COMPANY MAKE BIG HIT AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON
THEATRE

Bob Russell, brother of comedy actor, in small space has served to give the Booker Washington Theatre goes more entertainment during the holidays than they have enjoyed for a long time. Mr. Russell and his company opened at the Booker Washington Christmas Day, and Mr. Turpie was compelled to open a branch ticket office on the sidewalk to accommodate the crowds.

The company is now in its second and last week, both of which have been given over to productions of reflecting comedy, acted with good singing and sprightly dancing.
Noisy Speedy Smith has been the principal fun-maker, and this little company has kept the house in an upper ever since the opening matinee.
Miss Cleo Mitchell has been delightful in subterfuge roles. Brown and Fugh have shown their versatility by appearing well in several parts and at the same time doing several eccentric dances. Miss Oceola Blanks and Mr.
Harper are the artistic dancers of the company and always receive a bit.
Others in the cast do their turns equally well. Miss Barileana Blanks furnished the persons with some of the best excellent comedy last week, but was called home on account of sickness and is not appearing at present.

The production this week consists of an opening and a closing play, and as an olio. The fun is fast and furious, and there is, at a dull moment on the program. A crowded house has been the rule all the week. The engagement closes Sunday night.

Lincoln Motion Picture Company Making Good

All Negro Actors With Noble M. Jones Lead. Motion Picture Exchange Being Opened. California Concerns Choose Newspaper Man to Manage Their Branch Office

Out in sunny Southern California where the perfumes of the orange bloom court the pleasing odor of the almond bloom, The Lincoln Motion Picture Company is clearing the pathway to success by giving to the public moving picture plays of an exceptional high standard in which all of the principal actors are Negro men, women and children.

The Lincoln Motion Picture Company is an all Negro corporation and like all successful white motion picture companies has selected Southern California as its studio home. Almost in the shadow of Universal City, a city built solely for the purpose of making moving pictures, this all-Negro firm has produced and given to the movie lovers, two photoplays that have been pronounced a complete success by the critics of the cinematographic art.

The first production was a two part drama of love and adventure, which is known as "The Realization of a Negro's Ambition," in which Mr. Noble M. Jones, taking the leading role, has been admirably supported by Miss Beulah Hall, whose ability to laugh, weep, cry, or yell, stamps her as a star of the Mary Pickford type. The latest release of the Lincoln Company is a thrilling three-part drama known as "The Trooper of Troop K" and is along humorous and pathetic lines as it reaches a climax with the picture-ization of the battle at Carrizal, Mexico, in which two troops of the famous Tenth Cavalry were ambushed and almost wiped out by an overwhelming number of Carrizal soldiers. This picture and thousands of others are over three hundred and fifty reels long, including E. Ninth and Tenth Cavalrymen, Mexicans, cowboys and others.

The Lincoln Motion Picture Company is to be congratulated that it has gone into the business of making Negro moving pictures which are elevating, interesting and profitable.

With speed and ease I always wrought
The problems that tomorrow brought
And had I known what now I know
I should have ended long ago.
For I have learned of bitter cost
The lessons that I had and lost.

No word of lesson now I know Was heard, unless I'd made it so;
And when I studied as I should And when the day with workings good.

With speed and ease I always wrought
The problems that tomorrow brought
And had I known what now I know
I should have ended long ago.
For I have learned of bitter cost
The lessons that I had and lost.

Modern Isaac Walton Uses Electric Lights as Aid in Making Raid on Finny Tribe

Luring fish by electricity is simply a modern and very efficient method of fishing. It is a method that has been used for many years, but it is only recently that it has been used for the purpose of catching fish. It is a method that has been used for many years, but it is only recently that it has been used for the purpose of catching fish. It is a method that has been used for many years, but it is only recently that it has been used for the purpose of catching fish.

The device consists merely of an electric lamp incased in a strong glass container, the top of which is covered by the glass. A coil of wire and a few batteries to energize the lamp. The wires are insulated from the water by a length of rubber tubing and the batteries are stored in a portable box on shore. The flexibility of the tubing, however, does not permit it to bend under the stress of flowing water. A small switch mounted on the outside of the box controls or opens the circuit to the lamp at will.

When the fishermen is ready for operation he sets his float at the proper place and drops the lamp into the water. He then allows his line to hang alongside the lamp and proceeds to make a dash for the fish. The fish are soon crowd around to view the electrical display and when an attempt is made to relieve the hook of its bait, the angler strikes. After all the fish are taken, the fishermen returns to the shore and the lamp is placed in the box and the batteries are recharged.

It is not introduced to the wonders of electricity.
